Pocketed Innersprings

3 springs in 1

Hourglass pocketed springs have a distinctive design which is actually three springs in one.

- The top and bottom of the coil are wider, producing an initial soft and luxurious feel.
- The centre of the coil is more tightly formed, giving a firmer and supportive response when required.
- The overall effect is initial softness and comfort followed by good responsive support as more pressure is applied. This unique design responds quickly to the shape and movement of individual bodies as they change sleeping position.

Individual pockets are boxed assembled and secured together by a Leggett & Platt side gluing pattern. This allows each pocket spring to act unrestricted and independently from its neighbouring springs, optimising performance.

Each Hourglass spring is encased in its own fabric pocket, helping to reduce partner disturbance.

highly responsive

The Hourglass pocket spring responds effectively to varying body weights, providing support where it's needed most, without being too hard or too soft.

Too hard.

Too soft.
